
Your undergraduate years at USC may be your first experience of living away from home, or your first time in a new city—possibly in a new country. You’ll be in an unfamiliar environment, keeping a different schedule and making new friends. This new lifestyle will be a change and a challenge, but it will also be fun.

This booklet can help you with one of your biggest decisions—determining where to live. You’ll find descriptions of USC’s freshman housing facilities and our many special interest programs. You’ll also learn about meal plans, parking and how to select your roommate.

Why live in university housing? Because you’ll be close to your classes, USC libraries, and the student organizations and events that make campus life rewarding. Your years at USC will be enriched by your fellow residents—a mix of students from Brooklyn, Bangkok and Boise. You’ll make friendships that will last a lifetime.

So see what we have to offer. Welcome to USC Housing!

Deciding Where to Live

With all the buildings and room accommodations USC Housing has to offer, you need to make an informed decision. Please read this section carefully to find the housing that’s right for you.

Housing Options
Should you live in an apartment or in a residence hall? Your preference will depend on the style of living you enjoy. Both types of housing provide Resident Advisors, resident faculty mentors and special interest communities. Keep in mind that, no matter where you live, the quality of the experience depends largely on your participation.

The USC Housing Advantage

- Maintenance service available 24/7 for emergency repairs
- The option to be reassigned to different housing
Freshman Buildings
Traditional residence halls, suites and apartments are available to freshmen. For descriptions see pages 7–11. USC Housing considers a freshman to be a recent high school graduate with no college experience.

Residence Halls
Clustered in four areas on campus, USC’s 10 residence halls and suite-style buildings are reserved primarily for freshmen. These facilities offer the traditional collegiate housing experience. Students live in double-occupancy rooms and share community bathrooms. The required meal plans provide an opportunity to socialize in our dining facilities, such as EVK and Parkside Restaurant.

Close living quarters, numerous special interest communities and frequent activities foster a strong group identity and help students make friends. All USC’s University Park residence halls are located on the main campus, offering convenient access to university resources.

These factors make residence halls a very popular choice for freshmen. Approximately 2,500 spaces in these buildings are available to incoming freshmen. Residence hall rooms are among the first to fill, so apply early!

Apartments
USC houses freshmen in two apartment complexes: Century and Parkside. Century has air-conditioned one- and two-bedroom units, and Parkside has mostly one-bedrooms and studios. All units have double-occupancy bedrooms.

Apartments offer larger spaces and a more independent lifestyle—features attractive to many freshmen. Freshmen 19 years and older may prefer an apartment community where students closer to their own age tend to live. Each apartment unit also provides the privacy and convenience of a private bathroom. Residents can do their own cooking in the unit’s full kitchen. A partial meal plan is required for residents of both buildings.

Approximately 300 freshman spaces are available in Century and Parkside. Their proximity to campus makes it easy for freshman residents to participate in the many student activities the university provides.
Housing Accommodations
Choosing university housing means more than just putting a roof over your head. USC strives to provide its students with a pleasant living environment that includes many special features.

General Amenities
High-speed Ethernet computer lines and telephone lines for each resident are provided throughout USC housing at no extra cost, along with basic cable television and campus phone service. Rent always includes gas and water costs; electricity costs are sometimes included. (See pages 7–11 for details.) Laundry facilities are available on-site in all freshman buildings, most operated using a Smart Card system.

Furnishings
All university housing facilities are furnished. Every resident is provided with an extra-long twin bed (36" by 80"), desk, desk chair, three-drawer dresser and closet space. Apartments also come with living room and dining room furniture. For information on ordering linens for extra-long twin beds, see page 19.

Freshman apartments have “full kitchens” with cabinet space, a sink, and a full-size refrigerator and stove. Pots, pans, utensils and dishware are not provided.

All residence hall rooms and suite bedrooms in the International and Arts & Humanities residential colleges come with a micro-fridge (a small refrigerator-and-microwave combination unit). Fluor Tower suites have a minifridge in each bedroom and a kitchenette area with two stovetops, a sink and a microwave. For information on ordering houseware packages for residence halls or apartments, see page 19.

All furniture provided by the university must remain in the room or apartment at all times. We are not able to store any university or student furniture. If you bring more than you can fit in your housing space, you can store your belongings in one of the many privately operated storage facilities near the campus. Please maintain your assigned furniture in good condition; charges will be assessed for any missing or damaged university furniture.

Students with Disabilities
Housing for students with disabilities is available in a variety of locations on the university campus. These housing options accommodate different levels of access, and students’ special needs are considered when assignments are made. However, space is limited, and availability varies depending on the number of students returning to university housing for the school year.

Disability Services and Programs (DSP), located in Student Union 301, provides programs and services to facilitate disabled students’ full participation at USC. The office works closely with USC Housing to place students with special needs. Please contact DSP and the USC Housing Office as early as possible if you have special access needs; spaces are limited and in high demand. Students must register with DSP and complete a housing application to receive special housing consideration.

For more information, call Disability Services and Programs at (213) 740-0776. TDD: (213) 740-6948.

Freshmen Younger Than 18
Freshmen entering USC who are younger than 18 may wish to consider living with others their age in our Resident Honors Program. (Deans’ Hall, page 15.)

Furnishings
All university housing facilities come with basic furniture (bed, chairs, tables, etc.) appropriate to the room type. Apartments with living rooms come with a couch, armchair, coffee table and, in some cases, end tables. All apartments with full kitchens are equipped with a sink, stove and full-sized refrigerator (sorry, no microwave or other appliances) and include a dining table and chairs.

Every resident in USC housing is provided with:
• One twin bed (extra long, 36" x 80”)
• One desk with chair
• One three-drawer dresser
Financial Facts and Figures

Housing Fees
Application Processing Fee
A $30 non-refundable application processing fee must be paid at the time you submit your housing application. See “Application and Assignment,” page 27.

Contract Confirmation Payment
A $400 confirmation payment must be made at the time you confirm your contract. See “Contracts,” page 29.

Activity Fee
Each student in university housing is charged an activity fee of $41 (subject to change) per semester to support group outings and programming coordinated by the Office for Residential Education.

Rent
Housing, rent and meal plan costs are billed at the beginning of each semester (August and December). Charges will appear on the student’s statement issued by the university Cashier’s Office.

Billing Procedures
Each admitted student has a student account that reflects all university-related charges and credits, including tuition, lab and general fees, financial aid, as well as dining and housing charges. The Cashier’s Office will send you an e-mail each month notifying you that your current bill is available to view and pay online at www.usc.edu/epay. Your fall semester housing charges will appear on your August 1 bill. Rent payments must be made to the Cashier’s Office, not to the USC Housing Office. Only application and confirmation payments are made directly to USC Housing. If you have university billing questions, call the Cashier’s Office at (213) 740–7471.

If you have university billing questions, call the Cashier’s Office at (213) 740–7471. For questions about financial aid or loans, visit www.usc.edu/admission/fa/contact.html.

As the newest building in the Parkside area, the Arts & Humanities Residential College offers the opportunity to be part of an exciting and groundbreaking community. The four-story complex provides housing for 440 students in suite configurations of double rooms clustered around a small common space. Residents enjoy privacy and independence, as well as the benefits of being part of the intellectual environment of a residential community. The new college is a focus for arts-related activities with programs centered on student works and performances. The building has a wide variety of facilities that are shared with the other residents of the Parkside area, including a performance space, a multipurpose room, music practice rooms, a collaborative learning center, lounges on each floor, a recreation room, a laundry room, and a Customer Service Center. Residents of the college have a meal plan that can be used at the complex’s internationally themed Parkside restaurant as well as other dining venues. Students requesting the Arts & Humanities Residential College must submit a supplemental application; please see page 14.

Conveniently located next to Leavey Library, Birnkrant Residential College is an eight-story building with seven residential floors, each divided into a men’s and women’s section. Each floor has approximately 20 rooms, two large bathrooms (one for each gender) and a laundry room. The first floor includes the residence of the Faculty Master, a music practice lounge, a study area, a television lounge and a pool table, and is home to the popular Trojan Grounds coffeehouse, which accepts meal plan Dining Dollars.

Birnkrant primarily houses freshmen, although some returning residents live on the top two floors. Residents have a required meal plan.

Special Interest Community: Birnkrant Residential College [BKRC] (page 13)

Requesting a Single
USC Housing receives many requests for single rooms. Singles comprise approximately two percent of our total housing inventory, and most are filled by returning students. While we do our best to accommodate new applicants’ preferences, it is not possible to offer singles to everyone who requests them.

Parking at University Housing
Buildings listed with the parking icon have on-site parking facilities. Permits for all lots and garages are issued by USC Transportation. In most cases the number of spaces is limited; not all applicants will get a parking space. Applications are processed on a first-come, first-served basis. Please see page 26 for information about obtaining a parking permit for a university housing building.

Century is an excellent choice for freshmen who want more space and a more independent lifestyle, while still enjoying opportunities for the social interaction and group activities that are important parts of the first-year college experience. Located across the street from campus and convenient to both the Lyon Recreation Center and Café '84—this complex offers one- and two-bedroom air-conditioned apartments and has a Customer Service Center on site. Residents enjoy a central recreation room, a swimming pool, basketball and volleyball courts, a playground, and barbecue areas. Both freshmen and returning residents share this facility. It remains open during winter break. Parking spaces are available in the garage and in a small outdoor lot. All freshman residents have a required partial meal plan.

At 11 stories, Fluor Tower is the tallest building on campus dedicated to housing freshmen. This suite-style residence hall is a popular choice for new students and home to three special interest communities. Fluor has a pool table, a television area and a Customer Service Center in the lobby, and 10 floors of living space. Each residential floor has four suites (typically, two for men and two for women) housing eight students in four double rooms and a lounge for group studying and programs. Each suite has a common living area, kitchenette (microwave and range top), air conditioning and an extra-large bathroom with double facilities. The Lyon Recreation Center is close by, and Café '84 is conveniently located next door in King Hall. All residents have a required meal plan.

USC’s International Residential College is located in the southwest corner of campus. The four-story building provides housing for 400 students in a variety of five-, six-, seven- and eight-person suites, mixing single and double rooms. Residents enjoy privacy and independence, as well as the benefits of a residential community. The building’s many programs make it a center for global education and interaction. The complex has a wide variety of facilities that are shared with residents of the area, including a collaborative learning center for group study, formal and informal meeting and seminar spaces, music rooms, lounges, a recreation room with exercise equipment, a laundry facility and a Customer Service Center. The central dining hall features international gourmet cuisine and accommodates special dietary needs. Students requesting the International Residential College will need to submit a supplemental application; please see page 14.

Built in the classic style of college residence halls and located next to the university's historic Alumni House, three-story Marks Hall is a fitting home for Deans' Hall honors students. A pleasant lawn and garden plaza are right outside the front door. The first floor consists of two newly redecorated and furnished lounges. The first caters to social activities and features a piano, a pool table and a TV viewing area. The second has tables and chairs and is devoted to quiet study. The second and third floors are living areas with 24 double rooms each. Study and laundry rooms are in the basement. A new exercise room makes it convenient to keep fit; all equipment is new and comes with televisions to make working out more enjoyable. Residents have a required meal plan.

Eight stories tall, Marks Tower has all the features of a traditional residence hall, with amazing views from many of the rooms. The large, primarily freshman population of Marks Tower lives, eats and studies together while participating in the campus and residential activities that are such an important part of a student’s first year at college. This coed facility has seven single-gender residential floors, each with 14 double rooms. The large first-floor lobby consists of a lounge with a pool table, television area and the building’s Customer Service Center. Marks Tower is conveniently located next to GroundZero (a student-run entertainment venue and coffeehouse), a beach/sand volleyball court and two basketball courts, which are next to Parking Structure X (PSX). There is a required meal plan for residents.

The typical resident of North Residential College is an active scholar looking for a sense of community as well as modern conveniences. This residential college is coeducational, housing men and women in different areas. Occupying two buildings, Harris and University Residence Halls, North is conveniently located near dining and library facilities. It is one of three residence hall options offering singles to freshmen. Every floor has a laundry facility, and rooms in Harris Hall have sinks. There is a required meal plan for residents.

Despite its name, New Residential College is one of USC’s older housing facilities. Steeped in tradition, New College combines classic residence hall architecture with modern amenities and forward-looking programs. New College comprises two buildings: Elizabeth Von KleinSmid Memorial Hall (EVK), home to the EVK dining facility and a Customer Service Center, and College Hall. Rooms in EVK have sinks. The Trojan Grounds coffeehouse and Leavry Library are just steps away. Residents have a required meal plan.

Pardee Tower was completed in 1984 as part of USC’s commitment to the Olympic Village for the 1984 Los Angeles Summer Games. This eight-floor coed residence hall, close to Doheny Library and McCarthy Quad, alternates single-gender floors. Each floor has 18 double rooms, a common bathroom and a laundry facility. The large second-floor lounge provides a TV and sitting area and a kitchenette, and may be reserved for private meetings or events. Pardee has a Customer Service Center conveniently located on the ground floor, and features two music practice lounges on the second floor and study lounges on most other floors. This building is a great place to make friends and participate in campus activities. There is a required meal plan for residents.

Part of the Parkside Residential Community, Parkside Apartments’ two six-story buildings offer a variety of apartment choices to students of all class standings. Space for first-year students is limited, as most residents are students returning to the adjacent International and Arts & Humanities programs. There are three laundry rooms and a large lounge, and residents also have access to the common facilities and cultural opportunities of the adjacent residential colleges. Each apartment has its own kitchen and bathroom, allowing for independent living. Residents have a partial meal plan. Students requesting Parkside Apartments must submit a supplemental application; please see page 14.

The second and third floors each have 44 double rooms and a study room, and the basement houses a laundry facility. Residents have a required meal plan.
Special Interest Communities

Living and Learning at USC
Sharing ideas and experiences with diverse and fascinating people is an integral part of undergraduate life at USC. Our special interest housing enhances your university experience, bringing together students and faculty to share in a broad range of cultural and recreational activities and programs.

All USC special interest communities attract students who want to make the most of their college years. Yet each community offers something different. Some bring together students with similar career or academic interests. Others attract people interested in a particular culture or lifestyle. Some communities are small; others are quite large. Five of the communities are residential colleges, providing opportunities offered by only a few universities in the United States.

The Deans’ Hall community for honors students ensures a supportive environment for academic success while encouraging full participation in university life. Honors students are also invited to choose one of the residential colleges.

If you select one of these programs, you’ll find faculty and students interested in exploring the rich cultural, social and intellectual life of Los Angeles.
Residential Colleges

Arts & Humanities Residential College at Parkside
USC’s newest residential college was designed to create a space where students and faculty can form a strong scholarly community centered on the arts and humanities. In addition to its special interest floors dedicated to music, the visual arts and architecture, the Arts & Humanities Residential College at Parkside connects students with the cultural offerings of the campus as well as Los Angeles. USC Fisher Gallery and the schools of Fine Arts and Architecture are adjacent to the residential college, providing convenient access to their creative communities.

Every Tuesday evening, the Birnkrantz community gathers for a special dinner, often featuring musical entertainment or a distinguished university guest. During the week and especially on weekends, Birnkrantz offers opportunities for students to attend concerts, plays, films and sports events. Through their building’s system of government, residents also plan activities such as beach trips, nature hikes, movie studio tours and a Halloween haunted house for neighborhood children. Birnkrantz’s goal as a residential college is to be more than a residence hall: It’s a lively, exciting place where students are constantly interacting, learning from one another and fulfilling the residence’s motto, “Eight floors of open doors.” Many residents play for Birnkrantz in USC’s intramural competitions and enjoy pick-up soccer games and pool tournaments.

Birnkrantz’s location, near USC’s Leavey Library and McCarthy Quad, is a plus for residents, who are primarily freshmen. Trojan Grounds, a popular place for study breaks, is located on Birnkrantz’s first floor.

International Residential College at Parkside

International Residential College
In the 21st century, an understanding of global issues is vital. The International Residential College at Parkside—encompassing the International Residential College (suites) and Parkside Apartments—serves as a campus focal point for dialogue about global issues. Living at Parkside will allow you to participate in intellectual, cultural and social exchanges with people who have a wide range of backgrounds and interests, in one of the most attractive locations on campus. Students of all class standings live at the International Residential College. Parkside Apartments houses primarily upper-class students, and the International Residential College suites are home to most of the residential college’s freshmen.

The International Residential College hosts visiting scholars and renowned international figures, who give lectures and speak informally with students. Residents are encouraged to participate in community service projects in local ethnic communities and take advantage of volunteer opportunities that draw upon the city’s extensive international links. The new Faculty Master is Giulio Ongaro, professor of musicology and associate dean of the Thornton School of Music. With a lifelong interest in international relations and mutual understanding, Ongaro hopes to enrich the experience of Parkside residents. He frequently shares a meal with residents in the dining hall, hosts student dinners at his apartment, works with Resident Advisors and Residence Coordinators to organize activities for the residents, and also sponsors a weekly reception and speaker series for members of the Parkside community. Guests have spoken on topics including American foreign policy, string theory and music performance.

Living in the college is not limited to majors in the arts and humanities. Everyone who appreciates the role of culture and the exploration of ideas is invited to apply.

Birnkrantz Residential College
One of five residential colleges at USC, Birnkrantz fosters a community of friends by offering programs that draw upon the cultural resources of both USC and Los Angeles. Noted for its vibrant atmosphere and strong personal and academic support network, Birnkrantz is led by Faculty Master Thomas Gustafson, an associate professor of English and American Studies, and his wife. Thomas and Carol, along with the Residence Coordinator and the staff of Resident Advisors, sponsor activities that encourage students to learn and have fun by making close connections with each other, and in the city and world around them.
The International Residential College has two additional faculty members in residence. Ellie Nezami, an associate professor of preventive medicine and associate dean, Keck School of Medicine, whose research has an international focus, lives in IRC with her son Omid. A talented cook, she often hosts meals for residents. Nezami organizes an annual lecture series on international culture, media and food, and is committed to academic support. Following her successful program as part of the Visions and Voices series “Mystic Love and Personal Transformation,” she is currently working on a new global peace series, “Arts and Humanities Voices for Global Peace.” She received the 2004 “Teaching Has No Boundaries” award for her commitment to student life.

Resident faculty Ricardo Ramirez, an assistant professor of political science and American studies and ethnicity, lives in the International Residential College with his wife, Lupe, and three daughters, Angelica, Monica and Rebeca. Ramirez was born in Los Angeles and spent his early childhood in Mexico. He organizes trips to historical neighborhoods and exposes residents to the diversity in cultures and food throughout Los Angeles. His research interests include immigrant social and political incorporation, voting behavior and local politics. Ramirez received the 2005 “Teaching Has No Boundaries” award, the 2007 “Mellon Graduate Mentoring” award and in 2008 was recognized by “Diverse: Issues in Higher Education” magazine as one of 10 “emerging scholars.”

Parkside Apartments
At Parkside Apartments you can enjoy privacy and independence as well as a sense of community. You can prepare meals and entertain friends in your apartment and also find many opportunities to interact with neighbors like Macarena Gómez-Barris, an assistant professor of sociology and American studies and ethnicity, who lives at Parkside with her two children, Renato Emilio and Amalia Ixchel.

Two special communities, Muslim Housing and Schalom Housing, are located in Parkside Apartments (page 17).

Parkside Supplemental Application
If you want to live in the International Residential College or the Arts & Humanities Residential College at Parkside—including Schalom, Muslim, Music or Art & Architecture floors—you must list that community as your first choice on your housing application and complete a supplemental application. The supplemental application consists of several short essay questions that address commitment and interest in the themes of the residential colleges. These supplemental applications will be available on the special interest supplemental application website, http://sites.google.com/site/uscsuppapps/ by January 2009.

New Residential College
New College is a dynamic, student-driven community where academic pursuits, cultural programs, sports events and social activities are interwoven with daily life. The resident Faculty Master, the staff and the students—who nicknamed the college “Nuevo”—work together to shape the activities. Faculty Master Stan Rosen, a professor of political science and director of the East Asian Studies Center, specializes in Chinese and Asian politics. He has incorporated his interests in film, music, politics and international studies into New College programs. About once a month, residents travel off campus to sample ethnic food from around the world, guided by specialists in the particular culture. Trips to see and discuss new films and to jazz and blues clubs have also been popular activities. Residents often visit Stan’s apartment to watch DVDs on his home-theatre system. Weekly theme dinners for residents often feature live music, from jazz to classical. Dinner guests might be USC faculty members, a prominent visiting scholar or even the occasional Asian film director. New College also organizes the Ed Wood Film Festival each spring. Students from across campus are given 24 hours to complete original films, the best of which are then shown publicly.

Three special interest communities are housed in New College: the Cinema Floors, WISE (Women in Science and Engineering) and the Women’s Wellness Floor (page 16).
North Residential College

North is a premium location—you can grab a cappuccino at Trojan Grounds on your three-minute walk to Leavey Library, toss a Frisbee on McCarthy Quad, or dangle your feet in the reflecting pool. The Galen Center is right across the street and the historic Shrine Auditorium is nearby. Because EVK dining hall is attached to New/North, you’ll connect with a diverse group of students from all over campus.

Established in 1993 as one of the first residential colleges at USC, North strives to integrate a dynamic social setting with academic excellence. One vital tradition is the weekly Master’s Night Dinner, an upscale dinner with a casual atmosphere (and good desserts). Residents talk politics and philosophy with senior faculty members, meet entertainment executives, enjoy live music or just relax with friends.

North residents describe the building as dynamic, hip and open. It is known for its blend of academic distinction and cosmopolitan ambience. The typical resident is a well-rounded and motivated student who balances an active social life with high academic achievement. Many become leaders in student government, special interest organizations and Greek life. North College prides itself on being an outgoing and open community, coed by hall instead of by floor.

Faculty Master Ed McCann, a professor of philosophy and English, has been teaching at USC for more than 25 years. He and his wife, Linda, a librarian and researcher who specializes in Los Angeles and Southern California history, graduated from the University of California, Santa Cruz and hope to bring the best of their residential college experiences to North College residents. They enjoy books, movies, urban hiking in the L.A. area and wilderness hiking in the western Sierra.

North is the home of the Business Floors and Men’s Wellness Floor (page 16).

Deans’ Hall

If you are a Trustee Scholar, a Presidential Scholar, or a participant in USC’s Thematic Option or Resident Honors Program (an honors program for freshmen younger than 18), you are eligible to become a part of this prestigious community. Residents (mostly freshmen) come from all over the country and pursue a wide range of academic majors. Deans’ Hall in Marks Residence Hall, apply early.

Residents come together at the Deans’ Hall special weekly dinners—Deans’ Dinners—and at Deans’ Hall Building Government meetings. Resident Advisors (RAs) also plan activities and events that help foster a sense of community. If you’d like to improve your writing, you’re in luck. Scott Smith, an associate professor of writing, will be your neighbor. Smith, who received his Ph.D. from Kent State University, has studied gender and body issues in literature as well as 19th century and early American poetry. At Deans’ Hall, he has organized monthly book clubs and outings in Los Angeles, including a “midnight study break” at an all-night Downtown diner during the week of finals, an evening of jazz at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art followed by Ethiopian food, and dinner-and-a-movie nights with students helping to plan the menu. In addition to events beyond the campus, Smith’s plans for Deans’ Hall include talks on studying techniques and tools for writing effective papers, as well as roundtable discussions on gender issues and university life.

Many of these Trustee and Presidential Scholars move to Century Apartments after their freshman year and enjoy being part of a special interest community known as Trojan Academy. Deans’ Hall and the Trojan Academy have a long tradition of scholarship and leadership. These communities have been home to more URSC (University Residential Student Community) officers, student senators, members of honor societies, club leaders, Resident Advisors and award recipients than any other residence community at USC.
Special Interest Floors

Cinema Floors in New Residential College
If you have an interest in cinema or hope for a career in the film industry, the Cinema Floors in New College are for you. The hallway walls are decorated with a mural depicting cinema history, designed and painted by students. The floor is known for its camaraderie among residents. Daily film showings and movie-making are the most frequent activities. Faculty and alumni of the USC School of Cinematic Arts are invited to weekly dinners, programs and activities. Trips to Hollywood and film studios have been among the Cinema Floors’ many programs. Each year, the floors sponsor the Ed Wood Film Competition, in which individuals and teams from the entire USC student body are given 24 hours to produce a 10-minute film on a designated topic. The winner is chosen at a special School of Cinematic Arts screening, where all entries are judged and shown. Offered primarily to freshmen, the Cinema Floors are not restricted to students majoring in a Cinematic Arts program.

Women’s Wellness Floor in New Residential College
If you have an interest in eating right, working out, meditating or learning how to develop and maintain a healthy lifestyle, this is the place for you. The friends you make on this floor, known for its open-minded residents, will be your friends for life. Activities explore the balance between the body, mind and spirit, and include hiking trips, meditation techniques, guest lecturers, and nutrition and body-building workshops.

WISE (Women in Science & Engineering) Program in New Residential College
If you have an interest in mathematics, natural sciences (biology, chemistry, physics) or engineering, or are pursuing a premed track, this is the place for you to connect with a diverse group of women who share your interests. The friends you make in this program will also become your lab partners and study group members. WISE encourages residents to build connections with faculty by participating in laboratory-based research projects. For information on WISE Undergraduate Research Grants, visit www.usc.edu/admin/provost/WISE. Residents also volunteer in after-school science, math and engineering programs in neighborhood schools.

Business Floors in North Residential College
North College partners with the USC Marshall School of Business to create a special interest community geared to students with majors and career goals related to business administration, as well as to non-business majors who want to explore business applications. In addition, your Resident Advisor is an undergraduate student in the Marshall School of Business, who can serve as a resource. In collaboration with Marshall Academic Advisors, your Resident Advisor also offers programming geared toward students interested in business. (Group advising sessions and admission information are available to business majors and minors.)

Men’s Wellness Floor in North Residential College
If you have an interest in eating right, working out, meditating or learning how to develop and maintain a healthy lifestyle, this is the place for you. The friends you make on this floor, known for its open-minded residents, will be your friends for life. Activities explore the balance between the body, mind and spirit, and include hiking trips, meditation techniques, guest lecturers, and nutrition and body-building workshops.

El Sol y La Luna—Latino Floors in Fluor Tower
Are you ready to embrace USC’s ethnic diversity? If you have a special interest in Latino culture, Central/South American, Cuban, Dominican, Mexican or Puerto Rican or simply want to be a member of a close-knit cultural community, consider living on the Latino Floors, “El Sol y La Luna.” This special interest community for freshmen creates a supportive environment that eases the transition to USC life by promoting cultural awareness, community involvement and academic success. You will have opportunities to learn from and socialize with suite-mates and non-resident faculty. Monthly activities may include a cultural presentation, a traditional ethnic meal or networking with Latino faculty and staff. You’ll also be able to make a difference in the community, through activities such as hosting the annual Dia de Los Muertos celebration for local school children. The new Latino Floors’ seminars focus on key academic advisors, critical thinking and writing skills, and issues affecting the Chicano/Latino community. An online supplemental application is required. To apply, or for additional information, contact El Centro Chicano at (213) 740–1480, e-mail ecc@usc.edu, or visit www.usc.edu/student-affairs/elcentro.

Quiet Community Floor in Fluor Tower
This community is designed to be a tranquil haven in the midst of your busy campus life. By establishing a few simple quiet-hours guidelines, residents create a supportive environment focused on academic goals. The Quiet Community Floor is open to both men and women.

Somerville Place in Fluor Tower
Somerville Place was established in 1995 and named for John and Vada Somerville, the first two African-American graduates of USC’s School of Dentistry. This coed-themed floor creates an environment that fosters personal growth, academic success, leadership and positive social interaction. As a resident, you’ll have the opportunity to develop ties to the African American community in Los Angeles and become involved in community projects. You and your floormates will attend plays and tapings of popular TV shows, visit cultural destinations, like the African Marketplace, and take part in leadership and academic retreats. Now, after more than 10 years since its founding, Somerville Place continues to be one of the most sought-after residential communities. As a cultural hub, it became famous throughout the Los Angeles area after being featured in the Los Angeles Times, by columnist Sandy Banks, who wrote: “Somerville has broadened its residents’ perspectives in ways you might not expect in a dorm based on the notion of common interest and shared heritage.” If Somerville Place is your choice, you must complete a supplemental application. Contact the USC Center for Black Cultural and Student Affairs at (213) 740–8257, or e-mail cbcsa@usc.edu.
GO! (Great Outdoors) Floors in Pardee Tower
Do you enjoy camping, hiking or just being outdoors? If you do, the Great Outdoors Floors (one for men and one for women) offer a great opportunity to get out there and explore the many natural features of Southern California. Students in this program embark on camping, surfing, skiing, hiking and other adventures. Students on the GO! Floor also learn valuable skills such as wilderness survival and first aid techniques, while developing strong leadership abilities.

Muslim Housing in Parkside Apartments
USC’s Muslim Housing provides a venue for the exploration of the Muslim culture and way of life. Muslim Housing units are designated as substance-free and have individual kitchens that enable residents to prepare halal food and share Islamic holidays with friends. Through conferences and social activities held with USC Muslim organizations, you will learn how Islam relates to other faiths. If you are interested in Muslim Housing, you must complete a supplemental application. See page 14 for details.

Schalom Housing in Parkside Apartments
If you have a special interest in Jewish life, Schalom Housing gives you the opportunity to live with Jewish students, explore Jewish culture and connect with the Jewish community. If you keep kosher, you’ll be especially pleased that the apartments have individual kitchens. USC Jewish organizations help bring Jewish cultural and religious activities to the floor. If Schalom Housing is your choice, you must complete a supplemental application. See page 14 for details.

Art & Architecture Floor in the Arts & Humanities Residential College
The art and architecture floor provides a living environment where you can explore your art and design interests in the context of the Arts & Humanities College at Parkside (see page 13). You’ll have the opportunity to participate in art exhibitions, installations and public art projects that showcase work by members of the floor for both the Parkside area and the wider USC community. Faculty from the nearby schools of Fine Arts and Architecture participate regularly in activities on the floor. If you are interested in living here, you must complete a supplemental application. See page 14 for details.

Music Floor in the Arts & Humanities Residential College
The Music Floor provides a living environment where you can explore music of all varieties in the context of the Arts & Humanities College at Parkside (see page 13). You’ll have the opportunity to participate in ensembles, concerts and other performances that showcase the talents of members of the floor. You can also take advantage of the building’s music practice rooms. USC Thornton School of Music faculty members regularly participate in activities on the floor. If you are interested in living here, you must complete a supplemental application. See page 14 for details.

Rainbow Floor in Century
The Rainbow Floor provides lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) students, along with their straight allies, the opportunity to create a safe and affirming living environment through educational, academic and social programs. The floor was highlighted in the 2006 Advocate College Guide for LGBT Students, which placed USC in the top 20 Best of the Best LGBT-friendly colleges and universities in the nation. This floor is one of a few themed student housing programs in the United States designed specifically for the LGBT community and its allies.

Residents on the floor serve as members of the Rainbow Scholars, a student organization that promotes the Rainbow Floor to the campus community through community service activities, social events and faculty discussions. The scholars are also honored throughout the year for their scholastic achievements and positive contributions to the USC LGBT community. The floor works in collaboration with the LGBT Resource Center and Residential Education to implement programs that include LGBT and ally mentoring, social justice initiatives, career and academic support, and networking in Los Angeles.

In addition, the Rainbow Floor offers an “Overnight Experience,” which is an opportunity for prospective students to visit the campus, attend classes, participate in LGBT events and stay with a student host. All students who are looking for housing and identify as LGBT or as a supportive ally, including first-year students, are encouraged to apply to live on the Rainbow Floor. If the Rainbow Floor is your choice, you must complete a supplemental application. For more information about the floor and how to apply, contact the LGBT Resource Center Director Vincent Vigil at (213) 740–7619, e-mail rainbow@usc.edu, or visit www.usc.edu/rainbowfloor.

How to Apply for Special Interest Communities
If one of these special interest communities seems right for you, be sure to select the program when submitting your housing application. Many special interest communities are available to incoming freshmen only. Check first to make sure you are eligible for your choices. (For example, certain qualifications are required to live in Deans’ Hall.) When applying online for housing, be sure to first specify the residence hall, then specify the special interest community located within it. Some programs fill quickly, so apply early. The following special interest communities require supplemental applications: International Residential College at Parkside (including Schalom and Muslim housing); Arts & Humanities Residential College (including Art & Architecture Floor and Music Floor), the Latino Floors, Rainbow Floor and Somerville Place. For details, see pages 14, 16 and 17.
Living with Others

Coeducational Living
Our residence halls are primarily coeducational, although men and women are assigned to different wings or floors with separate bathroom facilities. Buildings with apartments or suites are coed, with each unit designated for a single gender. The majority of housing at USC is for unmarried students.

The Roommate Experience
One of the most anticipated events for a college student is meeting and living with a new roommate. Living with another student offers the opportunity to share your backgrounds and experiences, and discover how they have shaped your and your roommate’s personalities and interests.

Open, honest communication and mutual respect are the ground rules for a good roommate relationship. As in all relationships, compromise, consideration, patience and tact will serve you well. In today’s global community, learning to live with people from different backgrounds is an essential part of your education.

Students have different expectations regarding roommate relationships. Some people are simply looking for a person who is easy to live with, while others are looking for a new best friend.

You don’t have to be best friends to be good roommates. In fact, it can be easier to live with someone when you spend most of your time with other people. That is one reason to consider not rooming with a close friend from home. You might find your living situation easier if you can speak freely about your needs and expectations with someone other than a good friend.

Roommate Assignments
New students coming to USC housing will be assigned a roommate based on gender, building assignment, roommate requests and information in the Your Profile section of the online housing application. (For information about the application, see page 27.)

Roommate Requests
If there is a specific USC student with whom you want to live, the two of you must request each other as roommates on your housing applications and you must list identical housing preferences. You will need to know the student’s 10-digit student ID. Enter this information on the Add Known Roommate page of the housing application.

Online Roommate Matching
Most new students do not have a specific roommate in mind when they apply. Our online roommate-matching process will help you search for and match up with potential roommates. To take advantage of this feature (available online only), follow the instructions on page 27 for registering with USC Housing. In the Roommate Matching Preferences section, you will be asked about your study and sleeping habits, musical taste and what you like to do in your spare time. Your answers will be used by our search tool to match you with students who have similar habits and interests.

In the Application section of the website, you will be prompted to create a “screen name,” enabling you to participate anonymously in the matching process. USC does not use your screen name for any other purpose. (Note: Screen names that are deemed inappropriate or offensive will be deleted, and information about their use forwarded to Student Judicial Affairs as necessary.)

Once you apply, you can use our website to search for potential roommates. You will be provided with a list of potential roommates’ screen names and be able to review their answers to the Profile questions. Then you can contact anyone you think may be a good match for you. The system hides all students’ real names throughout this process. If you find someone compatible, the two of you should log on to our system and acknowledge each other to confirm the match as a roommate request. USC Housing will make every effort to honor your request, but we cannot guarantee that it will be fulfilled. Once you have been assigned, you may not search for roommates.

Roommate Information
For applicants who have indicated they wish to participate in the roommate-matching process, updated roommate information will be available on the Profile page of the website as assignments are completed. You can begin communicating with your potential roommate(s) by using your screen name, and share contact information as you see fit. USC Housing will make every effort to honor your request, but we cannot guarantee that it will be fulfilled.
Programming and Activities

University housing activities and programs can be a great way to get to know the people in your building and to make friends. Check with your Resident Advisor to find out what’s happening where you live. Residents throughout USC housing enjoy many activities and events, which are funded through an activity fee that is included in your housing contract.

Your Resident Advisor (RA) and other Residential Education staff design programs that support your out-of-class learning experiences and create a sense of community on your floor. Your RA will keep you informed about events that your building government, URSC, other RAs or campus organizations sponsor. For example, Visions and Voices, part of the university’s arts and humanities initiative, features many outstanding programs on and off campus.

You will also find there is much to see and do on your own, or with friends. Various campus organizations sponsor dances, movies, athletic events, museum visits, trips and other activities. The Los Angeles area offers recreational sports, beaches, clubs, music and theater performances, and world-class museums, plus great restaurants, vibrant ethnic neighborhoods and trendy boutiques. For up-to-date information, check with your Resident Advisor, look for campus posters, check the USC website, and consult the Daily Trojan and local newspapers. “Exploring Los Angeles,” in the student guidebook SCampus (www.usc.edu/scampus), is a guide to the city based on student input.

The University Residential Student Community (URSC)

URSC, the official student government, represents all students living in university housing. URSC promotes student interaction and growth by planning and funding programs, student advocacy, community-involvement projects and intramural sports. These activities are carried out by the Advocacy, Programming and Funding boards consisting of representatives from every housing complex. Through its regional and national involvement, USC is consistently recognized as having one of the nation’s most outstanding residential student governments.

Students active in URSC strive to improve residential life by working with their friends and neighbors. The organization promotes personal growth and leadership skills that help students in their professional lives after graduation. Contact your Resident Advisor when you arrive at USC to find out how to become a URSC representative. For more information, call URSC at (213) 740–6467, visit www.usc.edu/org/ursc, e-mail ursc@usc.edu or stop by Student Union 200H.

Smoke-Free Environment Policy

All University Park (on-campus), North University Park (off-campus) and Health Sciences campus housing facilities are smoke-free environments. Smoking is not allowed even if a roommate gives consent and even if the resident is the sole occupant of the apartment. All common areas—including apartment balconies—of all housing facilities are also designated as non-smoking areas.

URSC Linen Program

Our residence hall and apartments contain extra-long twin beds that require special linens to comfortably fit the mattresses. URSC has arranged to provide you with high-quality, extra-long linens, with both home and on-campus delivery available. This summer, you will receive a letter and order form that describes available products and special packages. Order by the deadline to ensure shipment to your home before you leave, or to have your linens arrive at USC for pick up on Move-in Day. For more details, call (800) 957–4338, or visit www.rht.org/sca. Proceeds fund student leadership development programs.

URSC Housewares Packages Program

Whether you’re planning to live in a residence hall with a microfridge or an apartment with a full kitchen, URSC can provide housewares packages designed just for you. Packages range from individual place settings of dinnerware to complete kitchen packages with over 80 items, including dishes, silverware, glasses, cookware, utensils, blender, toaster and much more. You will receive detailed package descriptions, prices and ordering information this summer. Packages are distributed on Move-In Day or sent in advance to your home. For more information, call (866) 511–5544, or visit www.collegekitchen.com/usc.
Greek Organizations
Besides offering social, recreational, leadership and community service opportunities, many Greek organizations have chapter houses near campus. Most are located on or near 28th Street, better known as “The Row.” Roughly one out of every five undergraduates is Greek affiliated. Because membership recruitment begins after the start of each semester, living in fraternity and sorority houses is not an option for most freshmen. Continuing students may decide to make a fraternity or sorority their home within the USC community after pledging.

For more information about USC’s fraternities and sororities, and how to sign up for recruitment in fall or spring, visit www.usc.edu/student-affairs/greeklife or, call the Office for Fraternity and Sorority Leadership Development at (213) 740–2080.

Services
“ResNet” Internet Access
USC Housing provides high-speed Ethernet connections throughout its facilities. This eliminates the need for residents to connect to the Internet using a modem.
An Ethernet jack and one telephone line are provided for every resident at no extra cost. In addition to Internet and campus network access, students can use their Ethernet line to submit and track work-order (maintenance) requests.

You may sign up for ResNet any time after moving in. Visit any computer lab on campus, or activate ResNet via the Web using your student e-mail account by logging on to www.usc.edu/resnet. The Internet connection is free; however, you need to make sure your computer is equipped with an Ethernet card, and purchase a cable to connect your computer to the network. In most cases, this costs less than $50.

Cable Service
All USC housing facilities provide free basic cable television service. Students who wish to take advantage of this service should bring a cable-ready television with them when they move in. If your television is not cable-ready, it will not receive all the channels in our system. However, you may be able to route the line through a cable-ready VCR. Visit http://housing.usc.edu to obtain the current list of available television channels.

Telephone Service
Every housing resident has a dedicated phone line; in addition, USC provides telephone service to all campus and university housing numbers. No deposit or service fee is required for basic telephone service. To make long distance calls, you must use your cell phone, or purchase a calling card. For your convenience calling cards are available from the USC Bookstore. Please note: Telephones are not included with this service, so plan to bring one with you. You may want to bring an answering machine so you don’t miss calls while in class.

Home Away from Home
Keeping Your Room Clean
Residents are responsible for keeping their rooms clean and free of safety hazards, and for leaving them in move-in condition at the end of the academic year. If the custodial staff finds it necessary to clean a resident’s room or apartment to bring it up to minimum health and safety standards, the resident(s) will be charged for services at a rate that reflects the additional staff time. If there is an empty space in a room, the resident must keep that space clean in case a new roommate arrives.

Shipping Personal Belongings to Your New Address
You may use any carrier (UPS, FedEx, the United States Post Office, etc.) to ship your personal items to campus. The address for all freshman housing buildings can be found on the inside back cover of this brochure. You may have items sent to that address even if you do not know the room number yet. Packages are delivered to your Housing Customer Service Center; the staff will notify you when they arrive. Please note, however, that we cannot accept any packages for you before you have moved into university housing. If your packages or mail are received by your Housing Customer Service Center before you move in, they will be subject to return.

Staff: Who’s Who
When you have a question or problem, knowing where to go and whom to contact is an important first step. An extensive network of USC Housing and Residential Education staff is available to help you with any issues you have.

Housing Services Staff
If you have questions about your housing contract, want reassignment to another room or have a repair request, you can call the Housing Services staff at (800) 872-4632.
Customer Service Representatives (CSRs) staff each of USC Housing’s Customer Service Centers (CSCs), as well as the central Housing Office. Aided by student support staff, CSRs help you with reassignment and contract questions, provide information about the facilities and assist you with maintenance requests. Find out which CSC covers the area where you live and get acquainted with your representatives; they can be a big help. Refer to the directory on the inside back cover for more information.

Senior Maintenance Managers oversee the custodial staff in each building. They are responsible for making sure the public areas of each building are safe and clean (and they appreciate your help in keeping them that way) and handling minor maintenance issues.

Housing Associate Directors and Senior Customer Service Managers guide and support the CSRs and Senior Managers. They are there for you whenever other Housing staff members are not available.

Residential Education Staff
Residential Education staff members, your neighbors within the residential community, ensure that there is always help nearby during your years at USC. The staff fosters core values of community, diversity, citizenship, scholarship and personal growth.

All housing facilities have a staff of Resident Advisors (RAs), typically consisting of one RA per floor or wing. RAs support your academic success, assist you in working through personal problems and foster a community environment through programs and activities. RAs meet with you to discuss your academic and career goals, provide programming and counseling services, direct you during an emergency and provide guidance about university policies. RAs are students, too, so they know firsthand what you are going through. They are trained to assist in a variety of situations and can be especially helpful in working with you to sort out roommate issues. Your RA is the first person to contact if such problems do arise. RAs are a valuable resource, and you should get to know yours as soon as you can.

Residence Coordinators and Assistant Directors are also key members of the Residential Education staff. Residence Coordinators are graduate students with many years of experience in on-campus living. They oversee a residence hall or apartment building(s) and supervise the RAs. Assistant Directors are full-time, professional staff members who live in university housing and supervise an entire residential area. These professionals have significant management experience, typically at multiple universities, and can offer support to students and family members, especially in emergencies. One RA, one RC and one Assistant Director are “on call” at all times and can be reached through the Department of Public Safety at (213) 740–6000. You can also contact Assistant Directors at (213) 740–2080.

Pets
Students are not permitted to have dogs, cats or other pets in USC housing. The only exception is for fish in a 10-gallon (or smaller) tank. Residents found with a pet will be charged a substantial clean-up and re-carpeting fee, and will be documented for violating university policy.

Air Conditioners
If your housing unit doesn’t have air conditioning, you can’t install a wall or window air-conditioning unit. This is considered a “physical alteration” of the room or apartment, which is prohibited by your contract for safety and security reasons. Small, stand-alone AC units are permissible. If you need an air-conditioned room, please select one of our many facilities with air conditioning when you fill out your housing application.

Dish/Satellite TV Antennas
Installation of these devices is a “physical alteration” of the building and/or the room or apartment, and is not allowed, for safety and security reasons. Remember: all our housing facilities come with cable TV service.

Items to Bring to Campus

DO

- If you’re assigned to a residence hall, bring:
  - Towels
  - Blankets
  - Bedspread or comforter
  - Answering machine (optional)
  - Telephone (for land line)
  - Sheets
  - Pillows and pillowcases
  - Alarm clock
  - Toiletries
  - Hangers
  - Decorations
  - Fan

- If you’re assigned to an apartment, bring all of the above, plus the following:
  - Dishes
  - Glasses
  - Cooking and eating utensils
  - Pots and pans
  - Small kitchen appliances
  - (Or you can wait to coordinate your kitchen needs with your roommate[s].)

  Century residents should bring a shower curtain.

DON’T

- Please leave the following at home:
  - Pets

First Things First
Selecting your housing is just the beginning. You also need to know how to get your USC ID card, how to apply for a parking space and how to choose a meal plan. In this section you’ll find the information you need about the range of services provided for USC residents.

USC Housing Services
Move-in and move-out, reassignment to a new building, help with maintenance problems—these are just a few of the many residential services of USC Housing.

The Housing Services Office
You can meet the Customer Service Representatives who have been answering your application, assignment, reassignment, contract and billing questions by stopping by the USC Housing Services Office, in Parking Structure X (PSX), between New College and Pardee Tower. The USC Housing Administrative Office is also located here.

To contact us, telephone (800) 872–4632 or (213) 740–2546, or fax to (213) 740–8488. Send mail to USC Housing Services, 620 USC McCarthy Way, Los Angeles, CA 90089–1332, or e-mail housing@usc.edu.

Customer Service Centers (CSCs)
Seven Customer Service Centers are conveniently located in our freshman housing facilities, with each serving a specific community of buildings. You won’t have to travel very far to take care of business. The expert staff take care of your facility and assignment needs once you arrive on campus. CSCs handle move-in and move-out, early arrival requests, mail and package delivery, and maintenance issues. You’ll find that just about anything that can be accomplished at the central Housing Services Office can also be accomplished at a CSC. See the inside back cover for a list of CSC locations and telephone and fax numbers.

Housing Maintenance Services
The upkeep and cleanliness of university housing facilities are important for residents’ comfort, health and safety. USC Housing has custodial staff who are responsible for maintaining the public areas in each building, and a maintenance office to handle repairs. To request a repair, you can place a work order by contacting your Housing Customer Service Center, calling the Housing Maintenance Office, or visiting http://housing.usc.edu. If your CSC is closed and you need assistance with emergency maintenance needs, contact the Maintenance Office at (213) 740–4646. This office is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Additional Student Services
There are so many programs and services for USC students that we can’t describe them all here. For more details, please see SCampus, the USC student guidebook, distributed on campus during orientation programs and also available at the Office of Orientation Programs. Visit Orientation Programs’ website at www.usc.edu/orientation. You can also find SCampus at www.usc.edu/scampus.
USCard
A multipurpose passport to services and activities on the USC campus, your USCard is also your student ID card. It enables you to gain entry to your USC housing, tracks your meal plan usage and is a convenient way to pay for campus purchases.

You will pick up your USCard during an on-campus orientation. Alternatively, you may visit the USCard office in Parking Structure X on the main campus or at Seaver Residence Hall on the Health Sciences campus to have your picture taken; your card will be ready in minutes. While it is not recommended, you may submit a JPEG image at www.usc.edu/uscard, and your card will be ready for pickup when you arrive on campus. For more information about sending us a photo, check the “Getting Your ID” instructions on the USCard website for more information.

Identification
By identifying you as a currently enrolled student, your USCard entitles you to many campus privileges. It enables you to cash checks at the Cashier’s Office, use USC libraries and computer centers, the Lyon Recreation Center and other recreational facilities. You should carry your USCard with you at all times.

Meal Plans
If you are enrolled in a meal plan, your USCard will be electronically programmed with your plan’s features. Simply present your card to the cashier to pay for your meal. Some meal plans include “Dining Dollars,” which are discretionary points that may be used only at USC dining facilities.

Purchases
You can also arrange to use your USCard as a debit card by designating a specified dollar amount of money in your student account for campus purchases. You can use it to buy a variety of goods and services at USC, including books and merchandise from the USC Bookstore; daily parking permits at most university parking structures and lots; entertainment; amusement park and sporting event tickets from the ticket office; and items from convenience stores on campus. In addition, the card can be used in many vending and copy machines on campus.

Access Network
The Access Control System Network is an electronic entry-and-monitoring system that operates in all freshman housing buildings and most other USC Housing facilities. The Access Network’s closed-circuit television and alarm systems help ensure residents’ safety. If you are a resident of a university-owned housing facility, your USCard is programmed to function as an electronic “key,” enabling you to gain access to your building or apartment complex and parking facilities.

The USC Bookstore
The USC Bookstore provides the university community with the daily necessities of campus life. The store sells new and used course books as well as school, office and art supplies; a wide selection of popular fiction, non-fiction and reference titles; magazines; medical books and supplies; faculty publications; and children’s books.

The bookstore is your source for the full line of USC merchandise, including clothing and gifts. The USC Bookstore Flowershop offers a convenient place to pick up or send flowers. The USC Bookstore is also home to the USC Computer Store, which sells computer hardware, software and peripherals, and other educational computing items.

The newest ventures from USC Bookstores are The Basement, a boutique for men and women, featuring premium sportswear and cosmetics, our store in the Galen Center and the Gamble House Bookstore in Pasadena near the historic Rose Bowl.

Contacting USCard
The USCard Customer Service Office is located in Parking Structure X on the University Park campus and Seaver Residence Hall on the Health Sciences campus. For more information, visit their website or call (213) 740–8709.

The mailing address is:
620 USC McCarthy Way
Rm 200
Los Angeles, CA 90089

Visit the USCard website to sign up for Web-based services: www.usc.edu/uscard.
Meal Plans and Dining Options

For their dining needs, university housing residents purchase packages of meals called “meal plans.” Designed “to build community by dining together,” these plans encourage students to gather in the friendly environments of campus dining venues, and are a key component of the student residential experience. All USC students may purchase a meal plan, regardless of where they live.

All freshmen assigned to residence halls and apartments have required meal plans. When you confirm your housing contract, you will automatically be enrolled in the default plan for that building. If you want to change your meal plan to another available option, you must do so by the end of the second week of the semester. Call the USCard Office at (213) 740–8709, or visit www.usc.edu/uscard.

If you have questions about meal plans, please call USC Hospitality at (213) 740–6285 or visit hospitality.usc.edu.

Dining Facilities

At USC, we are committed to a dining program with a wide range of options and facilities, to ensure that you have a rewarding dining experience.

Accepted Meal Plans: All dining facilities listed here accept the Traveler, Residential Fast Pass, Gold and Trojan plans (within plan restrictions), as well as Dining Dollars and Discretionary Points.

EVK

Featuring a buffet-style format, this restaurant offers freshly prepared entrées, seasonal vegetables, vegetarian options, an extensive salad bar, pizza, a waffle station and a make-your-own-sandwich bar. Our restaurant staff helps foster community interaction by planning and scheduling special theme dinners throughout the semester.

Parkside Restaurant

A key part of the Parkside Colleges, Parkside Restaurant offers “trend-current” international cuisine in an exhibition-style format that allows guests to observe the culinary staff in action.

Residence Halls Required Full Meal Plans

Students assigned to the following buildings:
- Arts & Humanities Residential College
- Birnkrant Residential College
- Deans’ Hall (Marks Hall)
- Fluor Tower
- International Residential College
- Marks Tower
- New Residential College
- North Residential College
- Pardee Tower

... are required to have either the Traveler, Residential Fast Pass, Gold or Trojan full meal plan. The Traveler Plan will be the default meal plan for students assigned to the above buildings. You may change to one of the other full meal plans by going to the USCard website.

MEAL PLANS: Meal plans are valid only in USC Hospitality establishments and may not be used for alcoholic beverages, cigarettes or pharmaceuticals. Refunds, credits or exchanges will not be permitted for any funds remaining on meal plans at the end of each semester.

MEALS: Traveler, Residential Fast Pass and Gold meal plans may be used interchangeably between EVK and Parkside for all meals.

DINING DOLLARS: This flexible, convenient method of payment may be used at EVK, Parkside Restaurant and most retail dining venues on campus. Usage is tracked by a declining balance. The balance resets at the end of each semester.
Building-Specific Required Partial Meal Plan
All freshmen living in Century and Parkside Apartments are required to participate in the Community Apartment Plan, or to upgrade to a full meal plan.

Non-Building-Specific Optional Meal Plans
These plans may be chosen by any USC student not enrolled in a required meal plan, or as a supplement to any meal plan.

Other Dietary Options
Kosher
Kosher meals are available at Parkside Restaurant.

Vegetarian
EVK, Parkside Restaurant and other campus retail venues offer vegetarian entrées, side dishes and salads.

Special Diets
We recommend that students with unusual dietary preferences or medically related needs arrange to meet with the Hospitality registered dietitian by calling (213) 821–1707 prior to accepting a housing assignment. This will enable you to determine the location and meal plan best suited to your personal dietary needs.

PLEASE NOTE: All meal plan information, including plan descriptions, accessibility and pricing, is accurate at the time of publication but is subject to post-publication changes. Visit USC Hospitality at hospitality.usc.edu for up-to-date meal plan information.

Trojan Grounds
Opposite Leavey Library, Trojan Grounds is a lively coffeehouse serving Starbucks coffee, fresh pastries, salads, sandwiches and packaged snacks. In addition, three Trojan Grounds coffee carts are conveniently located around campus.

Café ’84
Located between Fluor and Webb Towers, Café ’84 serves Tommy’s pizzas, made-to-order grilled selections, Mexican entrées, freshly prepared Asian cuisine at Wok Crazy, and gourmet vegetarian dishes and fresh pastas at Veggie Patch. There is also a soup, salad, potato and deli bar, as well as familiar favorites, such as Starbucks, Jamba Juice, Krispy Kreme Doughnuts and Wahoo’s Fish Tacos. Café ’84 is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Pizza is available through the “Room Service” delivery program.

The Lot
Located near the south side of Cromwell Field, The Lot is the latest creation from USC Hospitality. Consisting of seven different dining options and a retail store, The Lot is the largest single dining complex at USC. Options include popular brands such as Wolfgang Puck Express, Carl’s Jr., Zao Noodle Bar, and Submarina California Subs. The Lot also has five plasma screens, a contemporary sound system, coffee, desserts, ATMs and wireless capability. It is truly the dining and social gathering spot for all Trojans.
Campus Cruiser service operates in the evenings and runs through the night, seven days a week, except on university holidays. Call USC Transportation Services or visit the website, www.usc.edu/transportation, for more details and exact hours of service.

Department of Public Safety (DPS)
As the central coordinating office for the university’s security programs, the DPS’s primary goal is to ensure a secure environment, in which the social and academic endeavors of the university can be realized. The DPS office, open 24 hours a day, is responsible for the deployment of all security personnel on and around campus. You should call DPS to report any emergency, including serious accidents, crimes, suspicious circumstances, fires and safety hazards. USC safety officers have clearly defined responsibilities. They patrol on and off campus in cars, on bicycles and on foot; conduct preliminary investigations of reported crimes; and file Los Angeles Police Department crime reports. Community Service Officers patrol all university-owned residential facilities and monitor the Access Network 24 hours a day.

Nearly 300 emergency phones are strategically located around campus, in many buildings and on each level of every parking structure. A blue light on top of the phone booth identifies most emergency phones. These phones provide a direct line to the DPS office and should be used only in emergencies.

Transportation and Parking Services
Parking Permits
USC Transportation Services is the key to your university parking and transportation needs. Please contact them at (888) 724–8726 or visit the website at www.usc.edu/transportation for any questions you may have.

Parking permits are issued through a first-come, first-served lottery. Residents and commuters may apply for fall semester permits from early April to mid-May. If you don’t have a permit for the fall semester but wish to get one for the spring term, you can purchase one beginning in early November. Summer term permits can be purchased in early May. USC Transportation also offers daily and monthly parking permits in addition to semester parking permits.

If you would like to apply for a parking permit, please visit the Transportation Services website at www.usc.edu/transportation and fill out an online parking application.

Tram Service/Campus Cruiser
University-owned trams operate Monday-Friday, with service to nearby apartments and “Greek Row” houses. Depending on the route, trams make scheduled stops every 15-30 minutes from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. The new D-Route tram operates from 11 p.m. - 3 a.m., providing students with a safe ride home after other services have shut down for the night. The Health Sciences campus tram route, operating Monday through Friday, provides a link between both campuses. Schedules are available from USC Transportation and online. Students, staff, faculty and university guests may use the trams free of charge.

Campus Cruiser car service is provided as a “safe ride home” program for all students, staff, faculty and university guests. Generally, you may be driven to a destination within one mile of the center of campus but not to any commercial location. Simply call (213) 740–4911 and tell Campus Cruiser where you need to go. The dispatcher will send someone to pick you up, usually within 10–20 minutes.

To report an emergency, call (213) 740–4321 or use a campus emergency phone.

For general information regarding DPS activities, policies or available services, call (213) 740–6000, or stop by the office in Parking Structure A to speak with a staff member.
Application and Assignment

USC Housing’s online application is the fast and convenient way to apply for university housing. Get started by visiting housing.usc.edu.

The Importance of Applying Early
Housing assignments for incoming freshmen are made on a first-come, first-served basis. After class standing, the single most important factor in determining where you will be assigned is the date we receive your application. The earlier you apply, the greater the likelihood you will receive one of your building, room type or program preferences. This is particularly true for freshman buildings in high demand. Only admitted students may apply, and it’s a good idea to apply as soon as you are admitted. Please note: USC Housing expects to receive applications from newly admitted students for the 2009-2010 academic year as early as February 2009. Most incoming freshmen apply by May 1.

Registration
Before you can take advantage of the features and services on our website, you need to register and create your USC Housing account. Register with us by providing basic personal data, such as your full name, 10-digit USC ID number, birth date, gender, mailing address, phone number and e-mail address. Once you have registered with USC Housing, we will e-mail you a password. Your user name (your USC ID number) and password will allow you to complete a housing application, create and edit your profile, search for roommates, and find out about your housing assignment.

Profile
After you have registered, you will be asked to create a profile—information we need to make your housing assignment. In addition, by answering a series of questions about your personal living preferences, you’ll have the opportunity to participate in our roommate-matching process. (See “Roommates,” page 18.) Your personal details and any special needs information will remain private. You can change your profile any time after registering by clicking on the “Profile” tab on the Application web page.

TIP
Check the USC Housing website at housing.usc.edu for the most up-to-date housing and application information.

May 1, 2009
Freshman Housing Guarantee Deadline
Incoming freshmen whose housing applications are received in our office by the May 1 deadline:
- are guaranteed a space in USC housing;
- are eligible to be considered for a special interest community; and
- may participate in the online roommate-matching process.

Meeting the May 1 deadline for guaranteed freshman housing doesn’t necessarily mean you will be assigned to one of your top choices, so you are strongly advised to apply as soon as you are admitted.

Application

Freshmen may apply for housing once they have been admitted to the university and have been issued a 10-digit USC student identification number. You may submit a housing application before sending your Enrollment Commitment Deposit form.

To apply, click on the “Application” tab on our online portal and enter the term you are applying for (academic year 2009–2010, for those starting in August 2009, or Spring 2010, for those starting in January 2010).

Step 1 Application

Begin your application by providing us with information we need to determine what housing is appropriate for you, such as your class standing, marital status, and any physical or medical special needs we should consider when making your assignment.

If you want to use the Roommate Search and Message feature of our online application process be sure to select “No” when asked “Do you wish to be excluded from the Roommate Search and Message Process”. You will also need to create a screen name that you will use in the roommate-matching process.

Step 2 List Housing Preferences

Please select your category; newly admitted students should choose “New to USC”. You must list five housing preferences in order of interest. You may also indicate a special interest program for which you want to be considered. (If you are requesting a special interest program, be certain to list the corresponding building as your first housing preference.) You may wish to review the building descriptions in this brochure or on our website before entering your preferences. You can update your preferences up until the time assignments are made.

Step 3 Pay Application Fee

USC Housing cannot process your application before receiving your $30 non-refundable application fee. (This fee cannot be waived.)

Our website is set up to take payment by Visa, Mastercard or Discover card. When your payment has been accepted, we will send you a confirmation e-mail.

Although you have the option to go to Step 4 and select a roommate, once you pay the application fee your application is complete and you are eligible for assignment. When you have been assigned, we will notify you by e-mail and direct you back to the online application to complete the steps listed in the Contracts section below.

Step 4 Select Roommates (Optional)

If you would like to request a specific roommate, you can add that person to your application by entering his or her screen name and birth date and/or 10-digit USC ID number. In order for your requests to be considered, they must be mutual and the housing preferences listed on each exactly the same. Roommate requests cannot be guaranteed.

If you do not have a specific person in mind, you can conduct an online search for potential roommates and be presented with possible matches based on the information provided in your Profile. (See page 18.) You will be able to e-mail potential roommates. If you meet someone you would like to request, you can reopen your application and request them. Your roommate request can be updated up until the time assignments are made.

Assignments

We can offer housing assignments only to certified students. To be certified, you must have submitted your USC Enrollment Commitment Deposit form and the $300 enrollment deposit, or approved waiver, to the Office of Admission.

The USC Housing Services Office makes assignments based on space availability and the following criteria:

- The date your application is received by USC Housing Services. (If you requested a roommate, the official application date for both you and your roommate will be considered to be the average of your application dates.)
- Available spaces in the buildings or programs you have requested and for which you are eligible.

Your assignment will be as close to your requests as possible, based on availability and eligibility; however, there is a possibility that this contract may not match any of your building preferences. (Please note that your room or apartment number is not part of your contract and is subject to change without notice.)

Freshmen, as defined on page 3, whose housing applications are received by USC Housing on or before May 1 are guaranteed housing. This is not a guarantee of a particular type of assignment or a specific building. Early receipt of your housing application increases your chances of being assigned to one of your building or program preferences; it does not guarantee it.

Contracts

Once you have been assigned a housing space, you will be notified by e-mail. You can then log on to the online application portal on the USC Housing website and review your housing contract.

Step 5 Confirmation Payment

You may submit your $400 confirmation payment electronically by Visa, Mastercard or Discover card. If you remain in housing for the full term of your contract, the confirmation payment will be credited to your student account in the final month of your contract.
Step 6  Contract and Finish
To confirm your assignment, first read through the Living Agreement. Then you must click on the “I Agree” button to agree to the terms and finalize your contract; if you fail to do so, your assignment will be cancelled. Clicking on the “I Agree” button is the electronic equivalent of signing a contract, and by doing so you are agreeing to be legally bound by the terms of the Living Agreement.

Important: If you do not confirm your contract and make the confirmation payment by the due date indicated, your assignment will be cancelled and given to another applicant.

Step 7  Meal Plans
This page will show the default, mandatory meal plan for your assignment. You can add or change a meal plan at the USCard website www.usc.edu/uscard.

Once you have accepted the contract, you will see a confirmation page, summarizing the basic details of your housing assignment, including your current roommate(s). Please print a copy for your personal records.

Reassignments
If you want to change your assignment after receiving your contract, you can request a reassignment. To be eligible, you must have confirmed your contract and made the $400 confirmation payment prior to submitting your request. Reassignments are processed in two ways: by reassignment list and over the counter.

Reassignment List (Prior to Move-in)
If you want to request a change in your assignment prior to move-in, please read the reassignment information on our website and submit the Reassignment Request form that can be found there. Requests are placed on a reassignment list in the order received, and processed based on eligibility, gender and space availability. We make every effort to fulfill requests, but reassignment is not guaranteed. If we are able to fulfill your request, you will be notified by e-mail that your reassignment has been completed. This will be your new housing assignment; your previous assignment will be cancelled and offered to another student.

Reassignments are processed during June and July; on July 17, the Housing Services Office will cancel all unfulfilled requests. If your request is not fulfilled, you should move into your contracted housing assignment on August 19. No new requests will be accepted until the reassignment process re-opens in September.

Over the Counter (After Move-In)
Beginning Wednesday, September 9, reassignments may be requested over the counter at any CSC or at the main Housing Office. If a space is available that meets your housing needs and eligibility, you can be reassigned on the spot. There is no reassignment list during the academic year.

Cancellations
If you decide to cancel your application prior to being assigned, or to cancel your housing assignment prior to confirming your contract, print out and complete the Cancellation Request form on our website and send it to USC Housing Services. The application or assignment will be cancelled; the $30 processing fee will not be refunded. Once you have confirmed your contract and made the confirmation payment, you are responsible for the terms of the contract. However, you may still submit a completed Cancellation Request.

• If your cancellation is granted by June 15, you will receive a full refund of the contract-confirmation payment.
• If your cancellation is granted after June 15, you will not be eligible for a refund of any portion of the contract-confirmation payment, even if you decide to withdraw from the university.
• If your cancellation request is not granted, your contract will be in force and you will be held to its provisions.
You may request in writing to reactivate your application at any time during the same academic year without paying an additional fee or filling out another application.

Contract Dates

Specific start and end dates are associated with university housing contracts. Once confirmed, the contract is in force for that time period. All housing contracts run for the full academic year; monthly and semester-length contracts are not available.

University Park and North University Park Housing

All housing contracts for these spaces begin on Wednesday, August 19, 2009, and end on Wednesday, May 12, 2010. Apartment buildings remain open for the full academic year and may be continuously occupied by residents through the winter and spring breaks. However, university residence halls and suites close during the winter semester break. From the last day of fall semester finals (December 16, 2009 at 5 p.m.) to the first day of spring registration (January 7, 2010 at 8:30 a.m.), residence halls are closed for safety and security reasons. You do not need to move out your belongings, but you will not have access to your room. Be sure to take everything you need with you, and plan to stay elsewhere during that period. Residence halls remain open during Thanksgiving and spring breaks. Check with your Customer Service Center for details.

Requests for Early Arrival

Some departments and programs schedule activities before the university’s official move-in date, August 19, 2009. To the extent possible, we want to accommodate residents who wish to check into their housing assignment early to participate in these activities.

Early arrival requests must be received in writing from the department or academic program with which you are affiliated. Individual requests will not be honored, because we must also plan for summer school student departures, summer conferences and other university summer programs.

Customer Service Centers grant final approval of a department's request for early arrival, and will do so only if there is sufficient time to clean and prepare the room after its summer occupants have vacated. Incoming residents must call their Customer Service Center to verify early move-in approval before they leave home for USC.

If the early arrival request is approved, you will be charged $50 per night, prior to the first day of your housing contract. Residents who arrive without approval may be turned away or charged a higher, $80 per night fee if they can be accommodated.

Applying by Mail-In Application

Our online application process is fast, easy and secure, but if you would prefer to submit a written application, an application form can be found at our website at http://housing.usc.edu/Forms/AC10_Application_-_PDF.pdf. We can also mail you an application form upon request; you will need to provide us with a mailing address.

Print out and complete both pages of the housing application, providing all required information and listing your housing preferences. Return the application, along with the $30 non-refundable application processing fee to USC Housing Services, 620 USC McCarthy Way, PSX 137, Los Angeles, CA 90089-1332. Payment should be in the form of a check or money order in U.S. dollars, drawn on a U.S. bank. We cannot accept cash or credit cards.

Please make the check or money order payable to “USC Housing” and include your name and 10-digit USC ID number on the bottom-left corner. Staple the check to the designated area of the application. Your application will not be processed without the mandatory $30 application processing fee. This fee cannot be waived. The USC Housing Office will send you a receipt card to let you know that your application was received. Your application date will be the date your application is received in our office—not the postmark date.

Once we have processed your application and made your housing assignment, we will inform you by e-mail.

Please note that our roommate-matching process is available only to students who apply online.

Summer Housing

There is a separate application and assignment process for summer housing. More information about summer housing will be available in late March 2010. Please contact the USC Housing Services Office or your CSC about summer housing options and application information.

How to Apply for Residential Colleges and Special Interest Communities

If you want to live in special interest housing, indicate the program and corresponding building for which you would like to be considered when listing your housing preferences. To receive full consideration for your special interest preferences, your application and $30 application processing fee must be received by May 1. Note: Some programs require supplemental applications. For more information, see pages 12–17.
Housing for Spring 2010

Freshman students admitted for the spring semester are welcome to submit a housing application beginning July 1, 2009. The housing information and procedures presented in this brochure apply to spring applicants, except for the important differences noted below.

Availability
Unfortunately, we are unable to extend the same guarantee of housing to freshmen admitted for the spring as we do to students entering in the fall and applying by May 1, 2009. Spring housing assignments are based on: (1) the number of students admitted to USC for spring semester; and (2) the number of students who leave university housing during fall semester. Freshman housing is usually filled to capacity at the beginning of fall semester; only spaces that become vacant can be offered to freshmen arriving in the spring. The availability of specific housing types is difficult to predict, and it is often not possible to place applicants in their top preferences or with requested roommates. As space allows, spring admits will be assigned to freshman housing, although some may have to be placed in other undergraduate buildings in order to be offered university housing. More information about our facilities for upperclassmen, along with a complete map of all university housing locations can be found at our website: housing.usc.edu.

Applying
USC Housing will begin accepting spring 2010 applications on July 1, 2009. (Any applications received earlier than that date will be grouped with those turned in on July 1.) Due to high demand and the uncertain supply of housing space, you should apply early for the best chance of getting a housing assignment.

To be considered for spring housing, you must select the “Spring 2010” option when applying.

Housing assignments for spring 2010 will be made in early December 2009. Assignments will be made based on application date, gender and availability. Students will be notified of their assignments by e-mail and directed to the application portal on the USC Housing website to confirm their contracts. Move-In Day for spring residents is January 7, 2010.
